The second edition of the Craft Drinks India, 2019 exhibition was held in Bengaluru this year in July.

LEHUI FINNAH INDIA participated in this year, looking to expand their sales in the micro and craft brewery sector, having already established their name in the commercial beer market in India. LEHUI equipment and systems have received high acclaim in the Indian market and many people have complimented LEHUI and its services. LEHUI strongly believes there is huge potential for this craft brew segment in India as more and more microbrewery players are entering into the packaging segment. Moreover during the last few years, the craft brewery segment in India has grown at a high rate and more and more beerpreneurs are looking to establish their own brand, crafted to perfection.

CRAFT DRINKS INDIA EXHIBITION 2019

The inflow of customers was pretty good this year, and LEHUI INDIA, having completed a major UB Project, got a headstart into the commercial beer market, and will look to gain more orders in the future from the big players in the business.

We would like to take this opportunity to inform that LEHUI INDIA is already under process of supplying its first craft brewery system in India, later this year. We believe this will open more horizons for our equipments in the Indian beer market, as we strongly believe we can bring about a technical revolution in the craft beer industry.
